Milton on his Loss of Sight.

I am old and blind!
Men point at me as smitten by God's frown;
Afflicted and deserted of my kind,
Yet I'm not cast down.

I am weak, yet strong;
I murmur not, that I no longer see;
Poor, old and helpless, I the more belong,
Father Supreme! to Thee!

O, merciful One!
When men are farthest, then thou art most near;
When friends pass by, my weaknesses to shun,
Thy chariot I hear.

Thy glorious face
Is leaning toward me, and its holy light
Shines in upon my lonely dwelling place—
And there is no more night.

On my bended knee,
I recognize thy purpose, clearly shown;
My vision Thou hast dimmed, that I may see
Thyself, thyself alone.

I have nought to fear;
This darkness is the shadow of thy wing;
Beneath it I am almost sacred—here
Can come no evil thing.

Oh! I seem to stand
Trembling, where foot of mortal ne'or hath been,
Wrapped in the radiance from thy sinless land,
Which eye hath never seen.

Visions come and go;
Shapes of resplendent beauty round me throng,
From angel lips I seem to hear the flow
Of soft and holy song.

It is nothing now,
When heaven is opening on my sightless eyes,
When airs from Paradise refresh my brow;
That Earth in darkness lies.

In a purer clime,
My being fills with rapture—waves of thought
Roll in upon my spirit—strains sublime
Break over me unsought

Give me now my lyre!
I feel the stirrings of a gift divine,
Within my bosom glows unearthly fire
Lit by no skill of mine.

Hints to Young Teachers.

The following good hints to those who contemplate taking upon themselves the weighty responsibilities and arduous duties necessarily connected with the profession of Teaching, are from the Michigan Journal of Education, but we presume they will suit this locality, admirably. Try them:

1. Meet your school at the outset, with a quiet and natural demeanor. Affect neither sternness nor affability. Say a few simple words to your scholars, that you hope to do them good, and will try to do the best you can for them.

2. If whispering or disorder occurs, pause at once, and do not proceed until order is restored. The mere pause is generally sufficient for this.

3. Rebember that good discipline is the principal thing; without this, there can be no successful teaching.

4. Govern yourself; do not fly into a passion; never stamp or scold, and do not threaten or talk too much. Let a kindly interest in your pupils temper all your actions.

5. Have the school room kept tidy and comfortable; wash off scribbling and inkspots, and hang up maps and charts to give the room an attractive appearance.

6. Let the lessons be short but truly mastered. Go over the same ground again and again in reviews. No lofty superstructure can arise except on solid foundations.

7. Foster in your pupils a spirit of justice and generosity, kindness and forbearance, and reverence for truth and duty.

2. Make daily preparations for your work; the oldest and ablest teachers do this. You will thus be able to give clear explanations, and infuse life and spirit in your instructions.

9. Remember that your every act is closely watched, and that example teaches more powerfully than precept. That teacher who is a gentleman in dress and demeanor—whose language is pure, simple and TRUTHFUL—whose deportment is gentle, graceful and kind, will awaken a respect in both pupils and parents that will make his task easy.

10. Put yourself into communication with neighboring teachers. If there is no Teacher's Association, organize one as soon as possible.

☞ The Investigator tells a good story of the great "revival" in Wisconsin.—Among the converts was one whose previous profession had been "three card monte." Times being somewhat hard, he found little profit in his legitimate "practice," and became "converted," as the elders say. One night, at the suggestion of an elder, he rose to edify the congregation with his experience, and thus "delivered" himself: "Ladies and gentlemen—I mean brothers and sisters; the Lord has blessed me very much—I never felt so happy before in all my life—(embarrassed—)I never felt so happy before in all my life—(very much embarrassed)—if any one thinks I ever did, they can get a lively bet out of me!"

An Incident.

Mr. B——, a young gentleman of fine talents, was years ago a clerk in a bank in Virginia. He was a good scholar, and a courageous and honest young man, but was the leader of an infidel club, and had nearly succeeded in throwing from his mind the last shackler of what he used to call the "nursery superstition," which was the religion his pious mother had taught him.

On one occasion upwards of one hundred thousand dollars in bank bills had to be carried to Kentucky, and he was selected to carry it. As he was obliged to pass through a part of country where highway robbery and even murder were said to be frequent, he arranged to pass it in the day time. But he took the wrong road, and having lost himself, was glad to find a shelter anywhere. He rode about a long time in the forest, amid the darkness and chilliness of a starless October night.

At length he saw a dim light, and pushed forward until he came to a poor, wretched looking log cabin. It was now near ten o'clock. He knocked and was admitted by a woman, who told him she and her children were alone—her husband had gone out hunting, but she was certain he would return as he always came according to promise. Here he was with a large sum of money, alone, and perhaps in the house of one of those robbers whose name was the terror of the country. He could go no farther—what was to be done? The woman gave him supper, and proposed his retiring to rest. But no, no, he could not think of permitting himself thus easily to fall into the hands of robbers. He took out his pistols, examined the priming, and determined to sell his life as dear as he could.

In the meantime the man of the house returned; he was rather a fierce, uncouth-looking hunter; he had on a dirty skin hunting shirt and bear skin cap, and seemed to be much fatigued, and in no very talkative mood, all of which boded our young infidel no good. He asked the stranger if he did not wish to retire; he told him no, he would sit by the fire all night. The man of the house urged him. But no, he would not think of such a thing. He was terribly alarmed, and expected this would be his last night on earth. His infidel principles gave him little comfort. His fears grew into perfect agony. What was to be done?

At length the rough back-woodsman rose up, and reaching over the stranger's head to a shelf, took down an old book, and said, "Well, stranger, if you will not go to bed, I will; but it is my custom always to read a chapter out of God's word before I go to bed." A load was at once removed from him. Though avowing himself an infidel, he now had full confidence in the Bible, he was at once safe; he felt that the man who kept an old Bible in the house, and read it, and bent his knees before his Maker, would do him no harm. He listened to the prayers of the good man, at once dismissed his fears, and lay down in that rude cabin, and slept as calmy as he did under his father's roof.

Whistling Girls.

Whistling girls and crowing hens,
Always come to some bad end.

In one of the curious Chinese books recently translated and published in Paris, this proverb occurs in substantially the same words. It is also an injunction of the Chinese priesthood, and a carefully observed household custom, to kill immediately every hen that crows, as a preventative against the misfortune which the circumstance is supposed to indicate.—The same practice prevails throughout many portions of the United States.

We do not see why, if crowing hens are disposed of for fear of misfortune, "whistling girls" should not also be made the subject of visitation. They are rather in high favor. Witness the popularity of the song, "Whistle and I'll come to you." A girl who can whistle, has music in her of no common kind, that is evident; and the "bad end" she comes to is, generally, to whistle her way into some old bachelors bosom. Pretty bad place, but a spot into which a great many "unprotected females" would be most glad to find an asylum—particularly if it was accompanied with a fine suit of rooms, and servants to match!

☞ When you see a man in business, who will not advertise or take a newspaper, look out for a mean penurious skinflint who wouldn't trust an honest woman for two pounds of butter; too tight to enjoy good health, and who holds a penny so near his eyes that he can't see a dollar.

☞ A Clergyman gave the following notice for a woman's rights lecture: "At half past six o'clock at the school house in the first district, a hen will attempt to crow!"

☞ A man in battle is not allowed to whistle to keep his courage up, and the whistling of bullets doesn't have that tendency.

Sleeping With the Landlord's Wife.

We give the annexed incident in regard to Rev. Zeb Twitchell, a Methodist clergyman in full and regular standing, and a member of the Vermont Conference.

At one time he represented Stockbridge in the State Legislature. Zeb, says our informant, is a man of fair talents, both as a preacher and a musician. In the pulpit he is grave, solemn, dignified, and a thorough systematic sermonizer; but out of it there is no man living who is more full of fun and drollery. On one occasion he was wending his way towards the seat of the Annual Conference of Ministers, in company with another clergyman. Passing a country inn he remarked to the other clergyman—

"The last time I stopped at that tavern, I slept with the landlord's wife."

In utter amazement, his clerical friend inquired what he meant.

"I mean just what I say," replied Zeb; and on went the two travelers in unbroken silence, until they reached the conference.

In the early part of the session, the conference sat with closed doors for the purpose of transacting some private business, and especially to attend to the annual examination of each member's private character, or rather conduct, during the past year. For this purpose the clerk called Zeb's name.

"Does any one know ought against the character of brother Twitchell, during the past year?" asked the bishop, who was the presiding officer.

After a moment's silence, Zeb's traveling companion arose with a heavy heart and grave countenance; he said he had a duty to perform—one that he owed to God and the church, and himself; he must therefore discharge it fearlessly, though tremblingly. He then related what Zeb had told him while passing the tavern, how he slept with the landlords wife, etc.

The grave body of ministers were struck as with a thunderbolt, although a few smiled and looked first at Zeb, then upon the bishop, knowingly, for they knew better than the others the character of the accused.

The bishop called upon brother T. and asked him what he had to say in relation to so serious a charge. Zeb rose and said:

"I did the deed! I never lie!"

Then pausing with an awful seriousness, he proceeded with a slow and solemn deliberation:

"There was one little circumstance, however, connected with the affair, I did not name to the brother. It may not have much weight with the Conference, but although it may be deemed of trifling importance, I will state it: When I slept with the landlord's wife, as I told the brother, I kept the tavern myself!"

Chinese Habits.

Our readers have often read of the peculiar customs and almost incredulous dishes of our underground neighbors—the Chinese. But the following, written by one who mixes with them daily, in California, we give as to us related:—

"In the markets, sucking-pigs and dogs are equally exposed for sale; the one being as readily purchased as the other.—The latter, however, are not freely bought after they have been fed on animal diet, except by the very poorest classes; but are nourished with milk and rice on purpose for the table. In the markets at Canton, I have observed, side by side, a phesant and a cat; and, upon enquiry, found them to bear precisely the same value. The cormorant, the wild duck, the hawk and the pigeon, being respectively indulged in by the bon vivant, while the salted rat, dried in the sun seemed to be an object of peculiar relish. Previous to their putting this animal to death, they frequently inflict upon it the most excrutiating agony; whether or not upon the same principle that we consider a hunted hare more delicate than one that has been shot, I leave my readers to determine. I have frequently seen a workman catch a rat, and, with the fore finger and thumb, dexterously break all the animals teeth, leaving it in that state until the evening, when it is killed and flayed for supper. They are, moreover, constantly in the habit of nailing the rat upon a flat board by the four paws, and leaving it in that position for many hours, and seem amazed at any one taking compassion upthe wretched beast. This animal is generally salted and dried in the sun prior to being eaten, as they say they taste infinitely more delicate after this preparation."

☞ A wise man endeavors to shine in himself; a fool to outshine others; the first is humbled by a sense of his own infirmities; the last lifted up by the discovery of those which he observes in others. The wise man considers what he wants, and the fool what he abounds in. The wise man is happy when he gains his own approbation: and the fool, when he reccommends himself to the applause of those about him.

A Little Hero.

Levi Buck, a little boy not over twelve years of age, was one of the passengers in the burned steamer Austria, and saved his life by swimming near an hour. This brave little fellow is the son of Mr. S. Buck, of Washington, D. C. The narrative of this child appears in the Washington Star, and is as intelligible and as interesting as the narrative of the adult survivors. He says:—I was under the charge of my aunt, who is about twenty-four years of age. At the time the fire broke out we were on deck, and the captain was asleep, and they waked him up, when he rushed upon deck and exclaimed, "Children, we are all lost!" The captain then pulled off his coat and jumped overboard. There was great excitement among the passengers, and they tried to get the fire buckets, but they could not, as they were all fastened and could not be got loose. The life boats were filled with passengers, while they were still hanging at the ship's side, and the ropes which held them were cut, which plunged boat and all into the sea. So great was the rush that my aunt and I were separated, and a man by the name of Pollock, was hanging by the chains of the anchor, and he called me to come to him. I then tried to reach him, and I was hurried over the head and shoulders of the throng, which was uncertain which way to go. I slipped down the chain and climbed upon Mr. Pollock's neck; and then I held fast for an hour, when my shirt caught fire. I was all the time holding by Mr. Pollock's hair. When my shirt was on fire, Mr P., said, "My boy, we must go," and he plunged into the sea, with me clinging to him. As we struck the water, I lost my hold on him, and swam about nearly an hour, when I was taken up by the boat from Maurice, and about an hour and a half afterwards, Mr. Pollock was taken up by the boats of the Maurice. When I was clinging to the neck of Mr. Pollock the magazine exploded, with a terrific noise, and I saw many persons flying in the air.

Debating under Difficulties.

Hon. Joshua R. Giddings lectured in Tremont Temple, Boston, the other evening. His subject was, "Twenty years in Congress." In the course of his lecture, he selected the following incident:—In 1845 there was an unfortunate man in the House from Georgia, by the name of Black, who regarded himself as the especial champion of that State and the 'peculiar institution.' When the Indian bill was under consideration, he (Mr. Giddings) took occasion to refer to the old matter of the Creek Indians and the slaves that had been stolen by the Georgians; Mr. Black took fire and made a speech, in which he charged him with stealing negroes and franking a dress to his wife. The Southern men gathered around him and spurred him on. When he had concluded, he (Giddings,) replied in mild terms, as would be imagined; but Mr. Black did not so regard it, and coming round to within four feet of him, with his heavy sword cane in his hand, said: "Repeat that and I will knock you down." "Well," said Mr. Giddings, "I never had been knocked down; it would be a curiosity; and so of course I repeated it.

"Dawson, of Louisiana, a professed duelist, came along, and placing his hand on his pistol and cocking it, said, 'D—n him, I'll shoot him!' He did not think he was in any danger, but others did; and a slaveholder from Maryland, armed with bowie knife and pistol, came over and stood by his side, with his arms folded.—John Slidell, and other Southern men, came over and stood by Black; Kenneth Raynor, (who has been called a 'Know Nothing' since, but who knew something that day,) who was fully armed, came and took up a position on his left; Charles Hudson rose quietly and put himself on his right; and Solomon Foot, feeling his cold Northern blood stirred somewhat, left his seat, and took up a position at the entrance of the aisle—and there and thus they maintained the freedom of debate.

THE OTHER SIDE.—Once in a happy home a sweet bright baby died. On the evening of the day when the children gathered around their mother, all sitting very sorrowful, Alice, the eldest said:

"Mother you took all the care of the baby while she was here, and you carried and held her in your arms all the while she was ill; now mother, who took her on 'the other side?'"

"On the other side of what, Alice?"

"On the other side of death; who took the baby on the other side, mother! She was so little she could not go alone."

"Jesus met her there," said the mother. "It is he who took little children in his arms to bless them, and said: 'Suffer them to come unto me, forbid them not, for such is the kingdom of Heaven.' He took the baby on the other side."

☞ An exchange speaks of a chap with feet so large that when it rains, or when he wants to get in the shade, he lies down on his back and holds up one foot. It fully answers the purpose of an umbrella.

Affecting Incident

On one of the many bridges in Ghent, stood two large brazen images of father and son, who obtained this distinguished mark of admiration of their fellow citizens, by the following incidents:

Both father and son were for some offence condemned to die. Some favorable circumstance on the side of the son, he was granted a remission of his share of the sentence upon certain provisions; in short, he was offered a pardon on the most cruel and barbarous condition that ever entered the mind of barbarity; namely, that he would become the executioner of his father! He at first resolutely refused to preserve his life by means so fatal and detestable. This is not to be wondered at; for I hope there are few sons who would not have spurned, with abhorence, life sustained on a condition so horrid and unnatural. The son, though inflexible, was at length overcome by the tears and entreaties of a fond father, who represented to him, that at all events, his (the father's) life was forfeited, and it would be the greatest possible consolation to him in his last moments, to think, that in his death, he was the instrument of his son's preservation. The youth consented to adopt the horrible means of recovering his life and liberty. He lifted the axe—but as it was about to fall, his arm sunk nerveless, and the axe dropped from his hand! Had he as many lives as hairs, he could have yielded them all one after another, rather than again conceive much less perpetrate such an act. Life, liberty, everything vanished before the dear interest of filial affection—he fell upon his father's neck and embracing him, triumphantly exclaimed, "My father! my father! we will die together!" and then called for another executioner to fulfill the sentence of the law.

Hard must their hearts indeed be, bereft of every sentiment of virtue, every sensation of humanity, who could stand insensible spectators to such a scene. A sudden peal of involuntary applause, mixed with groans and sighs, rent the air.—The execution was suspended, and on a simple representation of the fact, both were pardoned, high rewards and boons were conferred on the son; and finally, those two admirable images, were raised to commemorate a transaction so honorable to human nature, and transmit it for the instruction and emulation of posterity. The statute represents the son in the very act of letting the axe fall.

How It Strengthened Him.

A student of one of our State Colleges, had a barrel of ale deposited in his room—contrary of course to the rule and usage. He received a summons to appear before the President, who said:

'Sir, I am informed that you have a barrel of ale in your room.'

'Yes, sir.'

'Well, what explanation can you make?'

'Why, the fact is, sir that my physician advises me try a little each day as a tonic, and not wishing to stop at the various places where the beverage is retailed, I concluded to have a barrel taken to my room.'

'Indeed. And have you derived any benefit from the use of it?'

'Ah, yes, sir. When the barrel was first taken to my room, two days since, I could scarcely lift it. Now I can carry it with the greatest ease.'

The witty student was discharged with a special reprimand.

☞ An Irishman having accidentally broke a pane of glass, was making the best of his way out of sight; but the proprietor stole a march upon him, and having seized him by the collar, exclaimed, "You broke my window, fellow, did you not?"

"To be sure I did," said Pat, "and didn't you see me running home to git the money to pay for it?"

☞ When Sheridan made his first speech in Parliament, it was regarded on all hands as a most mortifying failure.—His friends urged him to abandon a Parliamentary career, and enter upon some field better suited to his ability. "No," said Sheridan, "no, it is in me, and it shall come out!" And it did, and he became one of the most splendid debaters in England.

☞ A Western cotemporary thus sums up the peculiarities of a cotemporary:

"He is too lazy to earn a meal, and to mean too eat one. He never was generous but once, and that was when he gave the itch to an apprentice boy.

"The only time he ever worked was when he took castor oil for honey."

☞ Lawyers have a ludicrous way of indentifying themselves with their clients by speaking in the plural number. Gentlemen of the jury, said a liminary of a Western circuit, "at the moment the policeman says he saw us in the tap, I will prove that we were locked up in the station house in a state of intoxication."

NO PAPER.—No paper will be issued from this office next week.

THE MEXICAN SQUABBLE.—A chief difficulty in getting at the truth of Mexican affairs comes from the fact that most of the fighting is done in the newspapers and by false rumors. War seems to be conducted very much like one of our political campaigns, and all the factions busy themselves in circulating tremendous stories of their own victories, in order to frighten their opponents. The Vera Cruz newspapers are full of reported defeats of the Zuloaga party all over the country, while the news from the city of Mexico indicates that the actual government is in fact strengthening itself and suppressing all opposition. It seems to be the fact that all communication between Vera Cruz and the city of Mexico has been cut off, and that the castle of Perote, which commands the state of Vera Cruz on the inland side, has fallen into the hands of the Zuloagists. And if we may believe the Vera Cruz papers, Gen. Echeagaray, by whom the castle was taken, has with shocking cruelty ordered all the officers and one-fifth of the men taken to be shot, in revenge for the assassination of Gen. Manero and others by the liberals at Zacatecas. The city of Vera Cruz is evidently in danger of attack by the government forces, from the fact that the military commander has ordered all who may scale the walls of the town to be shot, except boys under eighteen, who are to be flogged. At the city of Mexico, Zuloaga was forcing another contribution from the capitalists, to provide for the defense of the city.

ORGANIZATION OF THE LEGISLATURE.—On Tuesday next, the Legislature of Pennsylvania will assemble at Harrisburg, to remain in session for one hundred days and transact such business as may come before it. As a matter of course, there will be quite an exciting time in effecting an organization of both Houses, as there are any number of self-sacrificing patriots who are anxious to serve their country in the capacity of Speakers, Clerks, Sergeant-at-arms, Door-keepers, Messengers, &c., all claiming to have devoted their time and talents to promote the success of the party to whom belongs the 'spoils and plunder,' not a few of whom, must be doomed to disapointment. No doubt there may be found, in a few days after, quite a number of persons who merely came on business, the particular nature of which they will not define Nothing like trying, however, and if one man does not succeed, he can console himself with the reflection that he has many partners in his adversity.

ANOTHER ARCTIC EXPEDITION.—Dr. Hays, who was with Dr. Kane in his Arctic expedition, is engaged in the organization of another expedition to establish the truth of the theory of an open Polar Sea. The American Association for the Advancement of Science, favors the enterprise as the most interesting problem in Arctic geography. The American Philosophical Society, the Academy of Natural Science, of Philadelphia, the American Society of Science and Arts in Boston, and the Boston Natural History Society have considered the matter and adopted resolutions favorable to the project.

☞ The President has reconsidered his social programme, and recently invited a number of Republicans to take dinner with him. We understand that, like most of his hospitalities, these latter come "too late," and that the Republicans, having been compelled to appease their hunger during the long session outside the Presidential mansion, have resolved to appease it in the same way during the short session. It is now given out that not a single member of the Republican party will consent to put his legs under the Executive mahogany.

THE SPEAKERSHIPS.—From all that we can learn, we think Hon. John Cressnell of this county, and Col. A. K. McClure, of Franklin, will undoubtedly be elected Speakers of the different Houses of the Legislature, on Tuesday next, and we say now, as we have said before, that two better men for the positions, can not be found in the list of members to either House.

☞ Do one thing at a time—that's the rule. When you have done slandering your neighbors, then begin to say your prayers.

☞ A bill is before the Arkansas Legislature, to prohibit the sale of patent medicines in that State.

☞ It is stated that colored students are now attending the exercises of the Yale medical school.

☞ Miss Carthamy is suing Mr. Shaw, of St. Louis, for $100,000 damages for breach of promise. Fifty witnesses are to testify in the case.

☞ During the past five years there have been constructed in California, 4,605 miles of artificial canal for gold washing, at a cost of $12,000.

☞ It is a Chinese maxim that "for every man who does not work, and every woman who is idle, somebody must suffer cold or hunger." All loafers please notice.

☞ The Humbolt (Cal.) Times states that in addition to nine thousand snipe killed at four shots, by a citizen of Union, the air was full of falling birds for several days.

☞ A negro in Columbia, Mo, pursuing a hog the other day with an open knife in his hand, fell and the blade entered his heart, causing instant death.

☞ We think it will be necessary for Congress to order the printing of a copy of the President's Message for each voter and have it franked to them, hereafter, as many of the country papers refuse to publish it.

☞ A man out West, wanted to get a check cashed, but there being no one in the place to vouch for his identity, he exhibited his shirt, with his name written on it, which satisfied the banker, who paid over the money, and allowed the stranger to go on his way.

☞ The State canvassers of New York have decided to refuse certificates to the six Congressmen elect from New York city, on the ground that the returns read "for members of Congress," instead of "representatives in Congress."

☞ John Kilining, of Lebanon, Warren county, Ohio, died recently, worth $750,000. By will he directs this property to be deposited in some trustworthy bank—the principal never to be touched, and the interest to be devoted to the education of Protestant Germans in Ohio.

☞ A German boy living in Laporte, Ind., not long since, procured liquor and became brutally drunk. He was heard moaning in a fence corner, and a passer-by, looking for the cause, was horrified to find the boy's dog literally chewing him in pieces. The lad was fatally injured.

☞ Sold out—Greer and Allison have disposed of the Juniata Register, to its former proprietor, A. G. Bronsall. We presume the first editorials will be slightly savage, judging from the fact that the new proprietor is fresh from the slaughter-house.

☞ "Porters Spirit of the Times" says Wood's challenge to fight Heenan is accepted, Heenan's friends having deposited $500 with the editors of that journal for the opposite party to cover as the first installment of the proposed bet of $2,500.

☞ It is announced for the benefit of those persons who did not get a sight of the comet, that it will appear again before the public for a few nights only, in the autumn of the year 2,146. "And when it doth next ride about, may we be there to see."

☞ The vote of Boston, at the late municipal election, which was an animated one, was only thirteen thousand. This is ten thousand votes less than is given in Cincinnati, and is less than is polled in Chicago, a city which is hardly as many months old as Boston in years.

☞ Folks disposed to grumble about hard fare, should read Captain Marcy's account of his New Mexico expedition. He says for five days himself and 40 men had to crawl on their hands and knees in snow five feet deep on an average. The mules finally had nothing but pine leaves to eat, the rations for the men gave out, and they were compelled to eat the mules. All this was done cheerfully, and without insubordination.

☞ Work as though thou wert to live forever—worship as though thou wert to die presently.

☞ Two prisoners being "sent up" together, in Chicago, one for two, and the other for ninety days, they got mixed, and the short term prisoner had to serve out the long term. He has now sued for $10,000 damages.

☞ The Dead Alive.—The Wheeling Times states that a girl at the Hospital who had been sick for some time, died last Sunday. Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the burial was postponed until Tuesday, when consciousness returned to the little creature, and she is now recovering.

☞ It is stated that a young lady on Boston Common, dressed in the extreme of fashion, was mistaken by some boys for a circus tent, and they actually crawled some distance under the canvass before they discovered their mistake, when they broke from her in great consternation.

☞ Horrible Death.—Moses Bailey an employee at the Washington Foundry, Baltimore, Md., was roasted alive at the furnace of that establishment on Tuesday afternoon. He had been sent into the cupalo to attend to something, and fell into the furnace, overcame it is supposed, by the fumes of the charcoal.

☞ Judge Pearson, of Harrisburg, in a recent charge to a Grand Jury, said that the noisy collections of men and boys called "Calithumpians," who frequently annoy newly married people, are nuisances, and subject to severe punishment, and that it is the duty of constables to arrest those participating.

☞ Austria, it is said, will expend no less than $2,400,000 this year, on her squadrons, and for 1859, will increase the amount to $4,-000,000. Russia, is about to appropriate $2-500,000 for her navy. This time next year France will possess no less than forty screw line of battle ships.

☞ The Charlotte (Mich.) Republican states that a few days since, in Barry County, a singing master had difficulty in his school with some rowdies, and dismissed the school. As the master was going out, one of the rowdies stabbed him dead on the spot. A young man caught up a stick, and striking the assassin a blow killed him instantly.

NEW LIST OF CALIFORNIA NAMES.—Classical nomenclature has certainly been largely drawn upon in naming places in this State. Take the following as specimens of California taste in such matters:

Names of Mining Localities: Potato Hill, Salt Pork Ridge, Mugawamp, Blue Kanyon, Devil's Basin, Last Chance, Red Cape' Bar, Bunkumville, Whiskey Slide, One Horse town, Greenhorn Creek, Humbug Gulch, Sucker Flat, Red Dog Diggings, Snail Gulch, Shirt Tail Bend, Digger Creek, Poppet Diggins, Wolf Bar, Hell's Delight, Deadwood, Buckeye Flat, Gas Hill, Squaw Creek, Peppermint Hill, Brandy Creek, Stud Horse Gulch, Rot Gut, Dog Town, Mad Ox Kanyon, Yankee Jim's, Sailors' Diggings Calf Bar, Rattlesnake Bar, Hardscrable, Stony Gulch, Henpeck City, Horse-shoe Bend, Poverty Bar, Coffee Creek, Jackass Gulch, Secret Ravine, Angels' Camp, Lovers Hollow, Pot Luck City, Mosquito Kanyon, Pitchfork, Pepper Box, Louse Village, Hang Town, Rum Blossom, Plain Ground, Hogs' Glory, Bloody Run, Ragged Breeches Bar, Grizzly Bear Ravine, Egg Nog Settlement, Mad Mule Kanyon, Rat Trap Slide, Love Letter Camp, Petticoat Slide, One Eye, Chucklehead Diggings, Seven-by-Nine Valley, Nutcake Camp, Barefoot Diggings, Puppytown, Poker Flat, Brandy Gulch, Paint Pot Hill, Rough and Ready, Rag Town, Centipede Hollow, Hog's Diggings, &c., &c.

THE BENEFICIARIES OF DIVORCE LAWS.—The Chicago Tribune thus classifies those unhappy persons who seek Indiana from abroad for the purpose of finding relief under the divorce laws of that State:

Grass-widows, with whom husbands would not live; grass-widowers, with whom no decent woman could live; strong-minded woman, who claim as God-given the right to say how many children they shall have and by whom they shall be fathered; strong-minded men, who agree with strong-minded women in their theories, and lend their aid in carrying them out; fast woman, who feel that all husbands are nuisances; fast men, who prove the fact, in part; silly woman, who have married in haste and are repenting at leisure; silly men, ditto, ditto; unfortunate woman, who find themselves tied to sots, beasts or debauchers; these sots, beasts and debauchers who hate the purity and innocency of women—all these have by thousands, literally by thousands, sought the benefit of laws which Indiana was foolish enough to enact.

IMPORTANT RAILROAD MOVEMENT.—The Chicago Tribune learns that a new feature has been introduced into railroading recently, that of carrying wheat through to New York, and is thought to be of some importance. The Cleveland and Toledo Road has agreed, we understand, to take wheat in bins or barrels from Toledo to New York at 55 cents per 100 lb., and to intermediate points in the State of New York at proportionate rates. Some parcels have already gone forward and with satisfactory results. The four East and West lines have agreed to put wheat in bags or barrels at the same rate as flour, calling 216 lb. a barrel. The movement was inaugurated, we believe, by the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Road, as we saw a notice of the arrival of a lot of wheat at New York, which was shipped over that road from Chicago, before we heard the subject mentioned in any other quarter. For transporting such qualities of wheat as are in demand by the eastern millers, this arrangement may prove advantageous.

☞ A small keg of brass fillings worth perhaps two dollars, was sold recently to parties in Newark, N. J., as gold dust, for five hundred dollars, the parties selling representing themselves as in pressing need of money and willing to sell at a great sacrifice. When the "dust" was taken to New York, the old adage was found true, that all is not gold that glitters.—One of the swindlers was arrested, but indignantly repudiated any intention of swindling.—He said there had been a mistake in the keg taken, that he would make it all right; and, as an evidence of his sincerity, insisted that the "diddled" individuals should "keep a bar of gold" till he should rectify the error. This was accepted, and he went off to correct the mistake. It is needless to say that he never returned, or that the bar of gold turned out to be a bar of iron galvanized.

☞ The apportionment for members of Congress, under the census of 1860, will make a great change in the representation of several States, judging from the votes at the recent election in some of the Western States. Illinois, with nine members of Congress, has given 250,-000 votes, while Massachusetts, with eleven representatives, gave only 120,000. Wisconsin, with only three representatives, has given a vote within a fraction of that of Massachusetts. Compared with the votes of many other States, the discrepancy is still greater. The elections at the West were, however, held under greater excitement, and called out a fuller vote than in most of the old States.

A BOY TIES HIMSELF TO THE TAIL OF A COW.—A most distressing death occurred in Rappahannock county, Virginia, a day or two since. A little son of Mr. John T. Corder, near Elint Hill, left the house with a negro to drive some cows to a point not far distant. In a few minutes the negro returned and stated that the little fellow, who was about nine years of age, had tied himself to a cow's tail and had been badly hurt. The father proceeded to the spot, about a mile from the house, and there found the little boy tied to the tail of a cow by a rope around the waist. He was dead, having been dragged some distance, and his body shockingly mutilated.

SILVER COIN.—The market in New York is said to be overburdened with the depreciated silver coins of the United States. The proposition of the directory of the mint, that these coins should be made legal tender to the amount of fifty or one hundred dollars in one lot, would give them additional currency. As it is at present, the banks in that city decline receiving them in large sums, and object to taking over $5 of them at a time. The brokers have put up notices at their windows offering to sell "U. S. silver coins" at ¼ a ⅜ per cent. discount.

MILL SWEPT AWAY—MAN DROWNED.—On Tuesday morning, the saw-mill of A. J. Bonnett, Esq., on Glade Run, some four miles below Kittanning, Pa., was swept away by a rise in the stream. At the time, the proprietor and James Dunlap, a hired man, were on the mill. The former clung to some of the timbers, and was saved by persons on the shore, while the latter (supposed to have been struck by some of the falling timbers) was drowned in the stream.

STRETCHING TIMES.—An impatient Welshman called to his wife, "Come, isn't the breakfast ready? I've had nothing since yesterday, and to-morrow will be the third day!" This is equal to the call of the stirring housewife, who roused her maid at 4 o'clock with "Come Bridget, get up! Here 'tis Monday morning, to-morrow's Tuesday, next day's Wednesday—half the week's gone, and nothing done yet!"

☞ Hogs, smothered in the railroad cars, are bought up and sold in the Eastern cities, by a set of rascally butchers who degrade their honorable calling. Honest butchers should detect and make an example of some of the villains.

CAMBRIA COUNTY.—We clip the following items from the Johnstown Echo, of last week:

SENTENCE OF ARENTRUE.—William Arentrue, convicted during the first week of our Court of manslaughter, for the killing of George Beamish, was, on Saturday last, sentenced to four years and six months imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary. In passing this sentence upon the prisoner, Judge Taylor took occasion to remind him that it was the unanimous opinion of the Court that he (Arentrue) should have been convicted of murder in the second degree—an opinion which we think will awaken a response in the heart of every law-biding citizen of the county. If the decision of any jury ever empanelled in such a trial as this was tempered with mercy, it was the one that declared Arentrue guilty of manslaughter. Even those who felt the most abiding interest in the welfare of the prisoner, and were the most anxious that a merciful view should be taken of his crime, could not, with a proper understanding of the facts of the case, have looked for less than a conviction for murder in the second degree, and they have good reason to rejoice that such a decision was not rendered.

AN ALMOST FATAL RENCONTRE.—Scarcely had the curtain fallen upon the last scene in the Arentrue trial; and ere it was known amongst us what disposition had been made of the prisoner, our community was shocked by another of those terrible results of passion too frequently transpiring in our midst.

During the progress of a rafting match at the grocery and liquor store of D. S. Coughnour, on Railroad Street, about 8½ o'clock, on Saturday evening last, a misunderstanding arose between two men named Oliver Lenhart and Michael McTigue, and after the bandying between them of various unmentionable epithets, the latter, it appears from the evidence adduced on the preliminary examination, picked up the poker and threatened to run Lenhart through, when he (Lenhart) took from the counter a weight, (size undetermined,) which he threw at McTigue, striking him on the forehead and fracturing his skull, portions of which were shortly after removed from the brain by Dr. Yeagley. Although in a critical condition, it is thought that McTigue will recover, if inflamation of the brain does not supervene. Lenhart was immediately arrested, and after a hearing, was, on Monday, bound over in the sum of $500 for his appearance at the next term of our Court to answer the charge preferred against him.

FIGHT BETWEEN ELEVEN HUNDRED HORSES.—Southey, in his History of the Peninsular War, relates the following: "Two of the Spanish regiments which had been quartered in Funan were cavalry, mounted on fine black longtailed Andalusian horses. It was impossible to bring off these horses—about 1100 in number—and Romano was not a man who could order them to be destroyed; he was fond of horses himself, and knew that every man was attached to his beast, which had carried him so far and so faithfully. Their bridles were therefore taken off, and they were turned loose upon the beach. A scene ensued such as was never before witnessed. They became sensible that they were no longer under the restraint of any human power.

A general conflict ensued, in which, retained the discipline they had learned, they charged each other in squadrons of ten or twelve together, then closely engaged, striking with their fore feet, and biting and tearing each other with most ferocious rage, and trampling over those who were beaten down, till the shore in the course of an hour was strown with the dead and disabled. Part of them had been set free on rising ground at a distance. They no sooner heard the roar of the battle, than they came thundering down over the intermediate hedges, and catching the contagious madness, plunged into the fight with equal fury. Sublime as the scene was, it was too horrible to be long contemplated, and Romano, in mercy, gave orders to destroy them. But it was found too dangerous to attempt this, and after the last boat had quitted the beach, the few horses that remained, were still engaged in the dreadful work of mutual destruction."

☞ A sad scene—the effect of brutal passion, of weak despondency, and of rum-drinking degredation—was exhibited at the central police station, Baltimore, Maryland, on Tuesday last. In one room were the bodies of three men, all the victims of violent death. One was the remains of young Connary, killed in a moment of insensate and drunken fury by his own brother; the other that of a German, Casimir Smith, who had premeditately taken his own life; and the other that of a brawny specimen of manhood, found drowned, and bearing still the unmistable impress of the drunken debauch during which he had stumbled unconsciously into eternity.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION, PHILADELPHIA.

A Benevolent Institution, established by special endowment for the relief of the sick and distressed, afflicted with Prevalent and Epidemic Diseases.

The HOWARD ASSOCIATION, in view of the awful destruction of human life, caused by Sexual Diseases, and the deceptions practised upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by Quacks, several years ago directed their Consulting Surgeon, as a charitable act worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary for the treatment of this class of diseases, in all their forms, and to give medical advice gratis, to all who apply by letter, with a description of their condition, (age, occupation, habits of life, &c.,) and in cases of extreme poverty and suffering, to furnish medicine free of charge. It is needless to add that the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved modern treatment.

The directors of the Association, in their Annual Report upon the treatment of Sexual Diseases, express the highest satisfaction with the success which has attended the labors of the Consulting Surgeon in the cure of Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Syphilis, the vice of Onanism or Self-abuse, &c., and order a continuance of the same plan for the ensuing year.

The Directors, on a review of the past, feel assured that their labors in this sphere of benevolent effort have been of great benefit to the afflicted, especially to the young, and they have resolved to devote themselves, with renewed zeal, to this very important and much despised cause.

An admirable Report on Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, the vice of Onanism, Masturbation, or Self-abuse, and other abuses of the sexual organs, by the Consulting Surgeon, will be sent by mail (in a sealed envelope), FREE OF CHARGE, on receipt of TWO STAMPS for postage. Other Reports and Tracts on the nature and treatment of sexual diseases, &c., are constantly being published for gratuitous distribution, and will be sent to the afflicted. Some of the new remedies and methods of treatment discovered during the last year, are of great value.

Address, for Report or Treatment, Dr. GEORGE R. CALHOUN, Consulting Surgeon, Howard Association, No. 14 Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa. By order of the Directors.

LOCAL ITEMS.

LAW VS. BENEVOLENCE.—The scarcity of whalebone, the high price of brass, and the almost entire failure of rattan, are all attributable to the increased demand for hooped-skirts by our lady friends, and it is feared that the above named useful articles will soon be among "the things that were." Yet hoops must be had, and our coopers are determined to supply them. This fact has, of course, created an unprecedented demand for the only article, beside the above mentioned ones, fit to swell the exterior dimensions of the fair sex, viz:—hoop-poles! The Eastern coopers, it appears, have discovered that Blair bids fair to rival Perry county in the production of this article, and can supply any desired amount of it, consequently some of our land owners are making their fortunes in their endeavors to supply this material for feminine extension. These endeavors, no doubt, are generally selfishly prompted; but we can not say so of the case of Mr. Samuel Gray, of Logan township. Mr. G. had cut all the hoop-poles he could find on his own property, but still the demand was greater than the supply. He thought of suffering frailty—of womans' precious tears of disappointment—of the deep-drawn sighs and heart-rending sobs of heart broken dimity—of the awful chagrim and mortification that must be felt by an unhooped fair one—and his tender heart was touched—was softened down even to melting—he determined to avert so dire a calamity—he resolved to prevent one-half the contemplated misery of the weaker sex, even at the risk of loosing his honor and good-standing in society. His neighbor's property was chock full of hoop-poles, going to waste—growing up into timber-trees; he cautiously approaches it, axe in hand; his heart, otherwise timid, strengthened with the consciousness that he was performing an act of benevolence, and in the twinkling of an eye (or two) he has hoop-poles, alias timber-trees, enough to save a dozen of the "fair lights of the household" from untimely graves. But, sad to relate, his efforts to benefit the angels of our mundane sphere, and minister to their joys by supplying their most extended desires, was the precursor of his downfall. Come, ladies dear, and drop a tear, while we relate how the trespassed-upon proprietor caught your noble benefactor in the act, and without the fear of the ladies before his eyes or in his heart, had the kind-hearted trespasser brought up before 'Squire Cherry, who (the hardened man that he is) did, after mature deliberation, commit your friend to the "Lock-Up" in default of bail.—That the ladies may know who it is that thus prosecutes and persecutes such a philanthropist as Mr. G., we give his name and residence, viz:—H. McClelland, agent for Lloyd & Co., Allegheny Furnance—and may their most direful maledictions fall on him and them. We would also suggest to the ladies that their unbounded gratitude is due to the attorney who so nobly defended Mr. G. in the hour of his adversity, and used such weighty arguments to quash the indictment (which was for stealing timber) by attempting to argue down the justice's throat that "Hoop-poles were not timber-trees."

P. S. Since the above was placed in type, we learn that Mr. Gray made good his escape on the night after he was committed, in the following manner. The night being cold, the justice, thinking that Mr. G. might suffer if kept in the "Lock-Up," ordered the Constable to provide a bed for him at the American House, which he did. Mr. G. was accordingly locked in a room in the third story of the "American" and left for the night. When the Constable called for him in the morning he was non est inventus. You may dry your tears, ladies, your benefactor is still at large, and may follow is laudable calling in some other locality, where there are no hard-hearted men to "pull" him for it.

THANKS.—Our kind friends of the "Model Store" will except our thanks for the handsome manner in which they contributed to render our Christmas a happy one, and realize to us a portion of our dream. Their generosity shall long be remembered. But not to us alone do they exhibit their kindness. All who deal with them can bear testimony of the cheerful and accommodating spirit which actuates them and renders their store, in every particular, the model store.

Our young friend, J. E. Burchinell, will accept our thanks for the fine young turkey which he dropped into our office, while we were at supper, on Christmas eve. He knows how acceptable such presents are, about holiday times, to poor printers. May he live long and never lack a turkey for his Christmas dinner.

Our grateful acknowledgments are due a gentleman (who shall be nameless at present) of the town "over the hill," for that tremendous big gobler left at our door on Christmas day, by that clever fellow, "Yankee" Jones. The donor's heart is in the right place, though little did we dream, when we made honorable mention of his name, that we were to be so handsomely rewarded. We are now fully convinced that all we said about him was true. May his anticipations and our ardent wishes be fully realized in his experience.

VISITED US.—On Friday morning last, we had the pleasure of taking by the hand our young friend A. F. McKinney, Esq., of Omaha city, Nebraska Territory. Aleck looks as well as in days of yore, the Western country evidently agreeing with his constitution. He reports times to have "eased up" a little in that region, and the prospect of miners for gold, at the new mines in that region, to be flattering. He proposes remaining among his friends for a couple of months. Those who have business to transact in that locality could not commit it to safer hands than Aleck's.

CENSUS OF HOLLIDAYSBURG.—From the returns of the Assessor of Hollidaysburg, who took an account of the number of inhabitants in connection therewith, it appears that there is an actual population of 3,175 in that town—pretty good for a "one-horse" concern. The colored population, included above, numbers 166. There are 860 children under 10 years of age.

CAUGHT AND CAGED.—The truth of the proverb that 'the way of the transgressor is hard,' is made manifest in the daily experience of almost every man; and the frequent verification of the adage that "murder will out," compels the belief that Providence works the downfall of those who wilfully transgress His laws. We have a case to report in which justice, though seemingly delayed, nevertheless appears sure. Some three months since, a watch belonging to Mr. Isaac Cromer, of this place, was stolen from his shop. He could not, with certainty, charge the theft upon any particular person, but he suspicioned a young man named James Garrahan. On several occasions Mr. Cromer asked Garrahan the time of day, but his watch was always run down, or out of order, or something the matter, and he would not exhibit it. Failing in obtaining a sight of the watch in this way, his suspicions were so much confirmed that he felt justified in placing a warrant for the arrest of Garrahan in the hands of Constable Ely. In a short time after, Ely found the young man in Dr. Bittner's room, undergoing a dental operation. The Constable waited until the dentist had finished his job, ere he commenced. A short examination—not of his teeth—but his pockets convinced him that he had the right man, and conveyed him forthwith to the office of 'Squire Cherry. Garrahan denied the charge made against him. On being requested to exhibit the watch then on his person, he refused, but Constable Ely soon helped him to hand it over. On examination, the Squire identified the watch as one he had sold to Mr. Cromer, both by its appearance, and the number of it which he had in his account book. Other testimony corroborated that of the Squire, fully convicting Garrahan of the theft, and he was consequently committed to stand a trial at the next Court. Previous to being conveyed to Hollidaysburg, he was placed in the "Lock-up," where he became cool and attempted to get up a little heat by setting fire to the door of the "Lock-up." When the fire was discovered, the door was in a blaze. It was evidently his intention to burn his way out of "durance vile," but his scheme having been discovered, he was taken from the "Lock Up" and conveyed to Hollidaysburg where he was placed under the care of Sheriff Funk, who will provide for him until the assembling of Court.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR.—This is one of the greatest ornaments which man or woman could boast of. A splendid head of hair, a luxuriance of hair, if it be in a high state of health, glossy and thick, no matter what its color be so that it is natural, is an attraction that will not escape the envy of those who are bald, and gray hair is unnatural till one is in the neighborhood of four score and ten; short of that it is a disease. We would remedy this disease, and in what way? How could we restore gray hair to its original health! Use Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, for sale at all the drug stores; it restores the hair, it restores its health, and when that is re-produced, its beauty, its original color, its luxuriance and gloss is sure to follow. Wood's Restorative is the only Valuable Hair Preparation.

S. OF T.—At a regular meeting of Altoona Division, No. 311. S. of T., held on Saturday evening last, the following officers were elected for the ensuing quarter:—W. P., Wm. C. McCormick; W. A., Benjamin F. Custer; R. S., D. Galbraith; A. R. S., Wm. McCormick; F. S., D. T. Caldwell; T., Michael Clabaugh; C., J. Delo; A. C., John W. Clabaugh; I. S., Geo. W. Patton; O. S., A. D. Cherry. We are pleased to state that the Division is prospering finely. Some 15 or 18 Lady Visitors have joined in with the members to push along the temperance ball and add interest to the meetings. That object to which fair woman lends her aid and encourages with her presence and her smiles, is bound to prosper.

A GAY LOTHARIO PULLED.—On Saturday officer Radnbaugh arrested a gay deceiver from Altoona, charged with having betrayed and deserted a young woman of that place, who, like many others of her sex, "loved not wisely but too well." The fellow was taken to Altoona and disposed of according to law "in such cases made and provided."—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Who is the "gay Lothario?" It may be all true enough, but like many other little circumstances which occur hereabouts, we learn them first from abroad.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE.—The Annual Conference of the United Brethren Church, for this district, will be held in the church of that denomination, in this place, commencing on the 5th of January next. Those of our citizens who have never attended a meeting of this kind will now have an opportunity.

The last Quarterly Meeting of the church in this place, for the present Conference year, will be held on Saturday next, January 1st.

A. M. L. & R. R. A.—The annual election for officers of the Altoona Mechanics Library and Reading Room Association will be held at the Reading Room, on Saturday evening next, January 1st, between the hours of 5 and 7½ o'clock P. M. A meeting of the Association will also be held at 8 o'clock on the same evening. A full attendance of the members is requested, as business of importance will be brought before the meeting.

MARBLE WORKS.—We request the attention of our readers to the card of our young friend, John McKeage, (successor to A. W. Kinney) of Hollidaysburg. John turns out excellent work in his line, and when we can get a good article at home, at a reasonable price, we think it the duty of all to encourage home industry. We have examined specimens of his work and find them equal to those of city finish. All who deal with Mac will find him a clever and accommodating gentleman.

MASONIC FESTIVAL.—Judging from the bill of fare gotten up for the Masonic Festival, on Monday evening last, those who attended enjoyed one of the best suppers of the season.—As we happen to be outsiders on such occasions, we can not speak of the manner in which the participants enjoyed themselves, but presume if they did not it was their own fault.

☞ The Teachers' Association of this county, was in session in this place on Monday and Tuesday, but business would not permit us to be in attendance.

FARMS SECURED.—The extensive speculations in real estate now going on in New York city have broke out in Blair county. Our real estate friend over the way, at "Locust Grove," John Brotherline, Esq., sold, last week—

180	acres of land to		A. B. Lewis.
65	"	"	Chas. Ream.
50	"	"	Jas. Curry.
62	"	"	David Blyder.
80	"	"	T. B. Lewis.

They are all going into "the Kettle" at once to improve the land, erect houses, &c. Our sporting friends will regret to learn from this that their "occupation" will soon be used up in this famous hunting ground. Hope they will not censure Mr. B. nor the purchasers—the latter have certainly acted wisely in embracing this favorable opportunity to secure farms and houses in good old Pennsylvania WITHOUT CASH—and the former is justifiable in selling whenever he gets the opportunity to do so.—Standard.

A GREAT CURE BY DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP.—I live in Peebles Township, Allegheny county. I had a coughing and spitting, which commenced about the 4th of February last, and continued eight months. I employed the best physicians in the county, and my cough continued unabated until early in October. At that time I was advised to try your PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP, which I did; and after I had taken one bottle, I was entirely free from coughing and spitting. I had despaired of ever getting well, and I think it should be known that this valuable remedy will do for others what it has done in my case.

JUNIOR'S FESTIVAL.—We learn that the Junior's had a fine time at their Festival, on Christmas Eve. The lateness of the hour at which the supper was served up, prevented us from attending, nevertheless, we feel as much obliged to them for their kind invitation as though we had been present and partaken of the good things provided for the occasion.

NEW YEAR'S ADDRESS.—Our carrier's expect to wait upon their friends and patrons, on New Year's morning with a neat address, and wish us to ask of them a kind reception. Old shillings and quarters will be received by them at their full value, and larger pieces in proportion.—Save a piece of metal for them, friends, and receive a Carrier's thanks.

CHRISTMAS.—Christmas was decidedly a dull day in Altoona, judging from the appearance of the streets, most of the business places being closed, and no work of any kind doing; but we presume it was not dull in many of the houses, as a great number of turkies, geese, ducks, and chickens were bought up a few days, previous, which were no doubt served up to merry companies of old and young.

THE PANIC—MORE FAILURES.—The panic in New York seems to be on the increase. In this city everything goes on smoothly, and the only failures we have heard of were the failures to furnish good fits made by some inferior clothing establishments. There is no such difficulty to be encountered by those who patronize the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chesnut street, above sixth. Gentlemen and Youths never fail to procure capital fits at this popular establishment.

THE HALL OF FASHION is still open, and the Proprietor, in returning thanks to his numerous customers for their liberal patronage bestowed on him since his commencement, here desires to say (without fear of contradiction) that he is prepared to offer for their inspection the best assortment of handsome DRESS GOODS, SHAWLS, CLOAKS, WHITE GOODS, &c., &c., that can be found in Altoona.

Respectfully, &c., C. J. MANN.

WHAT REJOICING! "CONFIDENCE RESTORED!"—Every body has money to spend, and so they should have. This fact you can have demonstrated, by taking a stroll along Virginia street, in seeing the crowds of Ladies and Gentlemen wending their way after those handsome and remarkably cheap GOODS at

C. J. MANN'S.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.—While the President, in his Message, rather advises a specific duty on Foreign Goods whenever practicable, CHARLEY MANN advocates only a small advalorum duty on all Goods, both Foreign and Domestic, he offers for sale.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor.

In all diseases inflammation more or less predominates—now to allay inflammation strikes at the root of disease—hence an immediate cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR, and nothing else, will allay inflammation at once, and make a certain cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR will cure the following among a great catalogue of diseases: Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Chafes, Sore Nipples, Corns, Bunions, Bruises, Sprains, Bites, Poison, Chilblains, Biles, Scrofula, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Felons, Ear Ache, Piles, Sore Eyes, Gout, Swellings, Rheumatism, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Baldness, Erysipelas, Ringworm, Barbers' Itch, Small Pox, Measles, Rash, &c., &c.

To some it may appear incredulous that so many diseases should be reached by one article; such an idea will vanish when reflection points to the fact, that the salve is a combination of ingredients, each and every one applying a perfect antidote to its apposite disorder.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR In its effects is magical, because the time is so short between disease and a permanent cure; and it is an extractor, as it draws all disease out of the affected part, leaving nature as perfect as before the injury. It is scarcely necessary to say that no house, work-shop, or manufactory should be one moment without it.

No Pain Extractor is genuine unless the box has upon it a steel plate engravsing, with the name of Henry Dalley, Manufacturer.

Sold by G. W. Kessler, Altoona; George A. Jacobs, Hollidaysburg; and by all the Druggists and patent medicine dealers throughout the United States and Canadas.

NEW ENGLAND STATES

IN ONE YEAR.

The Restorative of Prof. O. J. Wood for Restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival, volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

☞ The Hair.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads and the only remedy, heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood those articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request, that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is now covered completely with the finest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Phila.

Coshocton, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (B. M. Hackinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or some State in the West, should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being fully convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell. Yours truly,

S. T. STOCKMAN.

Wayland, Mass., Feb. 5, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly three bottles.

Yours &c., JAMES FRANCIS.

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT! NEW MEDICAL SALT!

IT IS NOT A CURE-ALL.

For Inflammatory Diseases Only!

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT, instead of being a remedy for all ills, has control over but one ill, has but one aim, and accomplishes but one thing, to wit: SCROFULOUS INFLAMMATORY DISEASE, whatever be its form or locality, whether in the head, throat, abdomen, extremities or skin.

The peculiar excellence of the NEW MEDICAL SALT is, that without the useless loss of blood and strength, it effectually cures INFLAMMATORY DISEASES (no other) by producing an equilibrium of all the fluids in the body, the want of which is the sole cause of inflammation.

INVALIDS, TAKE NOTICE!! The following forms which the unbalanced fluids assume, and many not here mentioned, that have more or less fever, are as easily subdued by the NEW MEDICAL SALT, as fire is extinguished by water, to wit: Brain Fever, Headache, Rush of Blood to the Head and Heart, Fits, Inflamed Eyes, Ears and Nose, Canker, Neuralgia, Spinal Affections, Erysipelas, Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Asthma, Inflamed Lungs and Liver, Heartburn, Coughs, Dyspepsia, Venereal Diseases, Rheumatism, Gout, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, and all Itching and other cutaneous eruptions.

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT exerts, like the vaccine matter, an extraordinary influence on the veins and arteries, resulting in a gradual dissolution of inflammation as indicated by the pulse, which soon resumes its natural state, as the heat, pain and fever disappear.

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT does just what it claims to do—no more, no less—equalizes the fluids, by removing from the system all arterial and venous obstructions. Description circulars may be obtained from any Druggist who has this valuable medicine for sale.

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT. Get a Circular.—Ask any Druggist about the NEW MEDICAL SALT. Ask your Neighbors about the NEW MEDICAL SALT. Ask any one you meet about the NEW MEDICAL SALT. The New Medical Salt for Inflammatory Diseases only.

BOERHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR

DYSPEPSIA,

DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,

LIVER COMPLAINT,

WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND

FEVER AND AGUE,

And the various affections consequent upon a disordered

STOMACH OR LIVER.

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others affected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave: Because of its great success in the most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medical virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

CAUTION.—The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR

PREPARED BY DR. ABNFORD,

COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS,

is one of the best Purgative and Liver Medicines now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic, easier, milder and more effectual than any other medicine known. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

The LIVER is one of the principal regulators of the human body; and when it the powers of the system functions; when the stomare at fault, and the whole ach system suffers in consequence of one organ—the LIVER—having ceased to do its duty. For the diseases of that organ, one of the proprietors has made it his study, in a practice of more than twenty years, to find some remedy wherewith to counteract the many deranfiable.

To prove that this remedy is at last found, any person troubled with LIVER COMPLAINT, in any of its forms, has but to try a bottle, and conviction is certain.

Those Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest, PURIFYING THE BLOOD, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

BILIOUS ATTACKS are CURED, AND, WHAT IS BETTER, PREVENTED, by the occasional use of the LIVER INVIGORATOR.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents Nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels, gently, and cures Costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

☞ One DOSE of two teaspoonsful will always relieve SICK HEADACHE.

One bottle taken for fe- unale obstruction removes the cause of the disease, and makes a perfect cure.

Only one dose immediate- ly relieves Cholic, while

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for CHOLERA MORBUS, and a preventive of CHOLERA.

☞ Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the active principle of medicine after a long sickness.

☞ One bottle taken for JAUNDICE removes all tinlowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite, and makes the food digest well.

One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst forms, while Sum- mer and Bowel complaints yield almost to the first dose.

One or two doses cures attacks caused by Worms in children—there is no surer, safer, or speedier remedy in the world, as it never fails.

A few bottles cures Dropsy by exciting the absorbents to We take pleasure in re- commending the medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type, It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

☞ Mix Water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR

IS A SCIENTIFIC MEDICAL DISCOVERY, and is daily working cures, almost too great to believe. It cures as if by magic, even the first dose giving benefit, and seldom more than one bottle is required to cure any kind of Liver Complaint, from the worst Jaundice or Dyspepsia to a common Headache, all of which are the result of a DISEASED LIVER.

PLAN OF THE LOTTERY.

The numbers from 1 to 50,000, corresponding with these Numbers on the Tickets printed on separate slips of paper, are encircled with small tin tubes and placed in one Wheel.

The first 457 Prizes, similarly printed and encircled, are placed in another wheel.

The wheels are then revolved, and a number is drawn from the wheel of Numbers, and at the same time a Prize is drawn from the other wheel. The Number and Prize drawn out are opened and exhibited to the audience, and registered by the Commissioners; the Prize being placed against the Number drawn. This operation is repeated until all the prizes are drawn out.

APPROXIMATION PRIZES.—The two preceding and the two succeeding Numbers to those drawing the first 7 Prizes will be entitled to the 28 Approximation Prizes. For example: If Ticket No. 11250 draws the $50,000 Prize, those Tickets numbered 11248, 11249, 11251, 11252, will each be entitled to $400. If Ticket No. 550 draws the $30,000 Prize, those Tickets numbered 548, 549, 551, 552, will each be entitled to $300, and so on according to the above scheme.

The 5,000 Prizes of $20 will be determined by the last figure of the number that draws the $50,000 Prize. For example if the number drawing the $50,000 Prize ends with No. 1, then all the Tickets, where the Num er ends in 1, will be entitled to $20. If the Number ends with No. 2, then all the Tickets where the Number ends in 2 will be entitled to $20, and so on to 0.

JUST OPENED!

THE MODEL IN BLAST!

THE UNDERSIGNED WOULD announce that they have removed to their new MODEL STORE, corner of Annie and Virginia Streets, and are now opening the largest and nicest Stock of

DRY GOODS,

Boots & Shoes, Carpets, Notions, &c.,

Ever exhibited in this town. Having turned our attention entirely to the above named Goods, we will be enabled to keep a better stock of the Goods mentioned than those who keep so many varieties; and as we will not be compelled to sell Dry Goods, &c., at a high profit to make up for losses on other goods, we hope to be able to dispose of them at prices that will astonish the natives.

FOR THE LADIES,

We have Prints, Delaines, Ginghams, Cashmere, and all-wool Plaids; Debeges, Coburgs, Alpacas, French Merinos, Wool Delaines, Silk Foulards, Poil Dechevres, Satin Striped Poplins, Black and Fancy Silks, Shawls in great variety; also, Hosiery and Gloves of all kinds, White Goods, &c.

OUR STOCK OF CARPETS is large and very cheap—we defy selling as low as 37½ cents. Our Stock of DOMESTICS we think cannot be beat in quantity, quality or price. Persons who wish to get the most for their money will do well to give us a call and examine our stock and prices, and we hope to be able to convince them that the MODEL is the place to buy goods. J. & J. LOWTHER.

October 28th 1858—tf&s.

POSITIVE INFORMATION!—THE undersigned having perfected their Spring Stock, now offer to the public the LARGEST LOT OF GROCERIES ever presented in the town of Altoona.

Our object in publishing this card is to present the following facts:

1st. The recent hard times have very much reduced the price of Groceries in the city, especially to cash buyers.

2d. We bought these Groceries in large lots, many of them from first hands.

3d. We bought them entirely for cash.

4th. We sell for ready pay.

5th. We keep our stock full by weekly receipts.

6th. We are determined to keep up the credit of our house.

7th. We sell more GROCERIES than any other store in Blair county, at less per cent.

8th. We sell cheaper than any other store in the county.

A continuation of patronage is respectfully solicited.

Altoona, June 10, 1858. RICHARD McLAIN.

BY ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.—Did you hear the news from Europe? If you have not, we will tell you what it is. It is that HENRY TUCK has just returned from the Eastern cities with a large supply of consisting of all styles and qualities of Overcoats, Dress Coats, Vests, Pants, Boots and Shoes, and everything kept in an establishment of the kind, all of which he offers at unprecedentedly low prices for cash. Having purchased his stock at cash prices, he is thereby enabled to sell very low.

He invites all those in want of anything in his line to give him a call, feeling sure that he will be able to give satisfaction. HENRY TUCK.

MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES FOR JULY, 1858.

B. FRANCE & Co.,

Managers of the Maryland State Lotteries, present the following Splendid Schemes

FOR AUGUST, 1858.

They caution purchasers of Tickets to beware of ordering Tickets in Lotteries where extraordinary large Capitals are offered for a small cost of Tickets—all such are swindles.

The Maryland Lotteries have been in existence for Forty Years. They are drawn by a State Officer, and can be relied on. If you draw a Prize, you will get your money.—The whole country is flooded with bogus Lottery concerns. Beware of them.

☞ Order in the Maryland State Lotteries.

GREAT DISCOVERY OF THE AGE IMPORTANT TO TOBACCO CHEWERS.

DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES, the great Substitute for Tobacco.

It is a well known and incontrovertable fact that the use of Tobacco is the promoting cause of many of the most severe.

MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS

to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain narcotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood deranges the functions and operations of the heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased.

TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever used the noxious weed will bear testimony—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character.

THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES

Are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved completely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the entire system, restoring the Taste which has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system.

Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.

These Troches or Lozenges are put up in a convenient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade.

Prepared solely by the undersigned to whom all orders should be addressed.

JAMES E. BOWERS, Druggist.

INTENSE EXCITEMENT!—McCORMICK'S NEW GOODS HAVE ARRIVED AND ARE NOW BEING OPENED FOR INSPECTION AND SALE.

"Halloo, neighbor, I'm here on the ground again. Perhaps you recollect when I, last year, asked you to hold my horse a moment and tell me where the CHEAP STORE was. But it is different now. It reminds me a little of the campaign of 1840, when Gen. Harrison was elected President. You have only to go with the crowd and you will have no difficulty in finding McCORMICK'S STORE. From the excitement down the valley, and the quantity of goods I see carried away, they must be selling off very rapidly and very cheap."

"You are right, my friend; I would say to you, sir, go ahead and your anticipations will be fully realized. He has a very large and well selected assortment of Goods. He'll sell you a dress for fifty cents and give the trimmings into the bargain, I'm told, and all other goods in proportion."

"Good bye, neighbor, that's where I am going to buy my goods."

"That's right, and so should everybody else. Good bye."
